

The little ladybug, Lily, loved to fly. She'd zoom over fields of daisies, buzz past buzzing bees, and even try to race the clouds. One sunny morning, Lily spotted a giant, juicy-looking strawberry. It was the biggest she'd ever seen! She flew down to land on it, but oops! She slipped and tumbled right into the strawberry's soft, red flesh. Lily was covered in sweet strawberry juice! She giggled, licked her paws, and decided that even though she'd missed her flight, this was the sweetest adventure yet.
